

The Curriculum Frameworks and Instructional Resources Division of the California Department of Education is hosting an

INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS GIVEAWAY

March 29 & 30, 2010

12 p.m. - 3 p.m.

Location:

CDE Warehouse
3740 Seaport Boulevard, #20
West Sacramento, CA 95691

The California Department of Education will be giving away sample instructional materials, mostly grades K-8, which have been submitted for state review and/or adoption. These include textbooks, workbooks, big books, and kits in a variety of subject areas. In most cases, only single copies of any one title are available; there are no class sets.

The materials are available free of charge to schools or individuals for nonprofit educational use only. They may not be resold.

If you wish to attend the giveaway, come to the warehouse on the date and time listed above. You will be responsible for loading and transporting the materials you wish to take. Materials will not be held for future pickup.

Please do not bring children with you; this is a working warehouse and not a suitable environment for children.

If you have any questions regarding this instructional materials giveaway, please contact Joy Kessel, Analyst, Curriculum Frameworks and Instructional Resources Division, CDE, at 916-319-0443 or by e-mail at
