This session is the first of four training sessions for the Board. The first two sessions focus on engaging the Board in interactive learning sessions around the principles and strategies for the uses of data in making focused and aligned decisions that directly support and drive District work to improve student learning and achievement. Board members will learn how to ask the right data-driver questions; to ensure the most relevant data are readily available to answer the questions; and, to guide board members in using the most critical performance data in making board-level strategic direction, policy, and resource alignment decisions.
